

Dr. Patrick D. Retterbush

*Associate Member American College of Mohs Surgery
Fellow of the American Academy of Dermatology*

Dr. Lauren Whalen

Fellow of the American Academy of Dermatology

To our valued patients:

As our communities continue to feel the increased impact of Coronavirus, we want to let you know our office will remain open and will be seeing patients as usual. Your safety and our staff's health are our top priority. We will continue sanitizing our office daily, while taking extra measurements throughout the day to patient waiting areas, rooms, and check-in \ check-out counters. We have added additional hand sanitizing stations around the office and staff will continue use handwashing protocols.

We are asking our patients to please call our office to reschedule your appointment to a later date if you are experiencing any of the following symptoms:

- Fever
- Cough
- Shortness of breath
- Cold or Flu like symptoms
- Have traveled outside of the U.S or taken a cruise in the past 30 days
- Have been in contact with some who has traveled outside the U.S. or taken a cruise in the past 30 days or has tested positive to COVID-19

We appreciate your help and understanding to keep our practice safe for all our patients and staff.

Sincerely

University Dermatology and Skin Cancer Center Physicians and Staff.

1500 Oglethorpe Avenue Suite 300 A, Athens, GA 30606
Universitydermatologyga.com

PH) 706-614-1750
FH) 706-480-4185